

MONICA JOJOLA

2021-2029 | ALBUQUERQUE, NM

Monica Jojola serves as the President of Montech Inc. Established by Jojola in 2011, Montech is an award-winning, certified U.S. Small Business Administration 8 (a), Woman Owned Small Business, and American Indian Corporation that offers professional and technical support services for federal and state clients and commercial customers. Under the leadership of Monica Jojola, Montech has multi-year Federal Government contracts in place with personnel in New Mexico; Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Missouri, South Dakota, Wisconsin; Ohio; and Oregon. A leader in business development, Jojola has more than 20 years of successful executive experience in federal contracting opportunities, including organizing manpower and dedicating resources for multimillion competitive federal contracts. Jojola's company is a 2018, 2019, 2020, and 2021 "Fastest Growing Company" based on revenue.

Jojola's other experience includes briefing commanding officers in the southwest to Assistant Secretaries for Manpower and Reserve Affairs (M&RA) in the Pentagon, Washington, D.C. Ms. Jojola's community service includes being 2021 Team Kirtland Wingman; 2021 Air Education Training Command Civic Leader (Joint Base San Antonio, TX); 2021 Board of Directors on the University of New Mexico - Anderson Alumni Council (including Past Chair); 2021 Board of Directors for WESST; and 2021 Board of Directors for the American Indian Chamber of Commerce of New Mexico. Jojola is a graduate from The University of New Mexico with a degree in Political Science and Communication & Journalism. In 2017, Jojola co-authored "Indigenous Women Entrepreneurs of New Mexico: Surpassing Barriers and Stereotypes." Monica Jojola is from the Pueblo of Isleta, New Mexico.